He was accompanied by the czarina and his laughter Olga, who were dressed in te in honor of the solemn occasion. The congregation included the dowages impress; the czar's sister, Grand Duchess Olga and her husband, the Duke of enburg. His majesty took the rated bread and wine from Chaplain Yanysheff and afterward be stowed the bread, steeped in the win pon the dowager empress, the czaring and the grand cuchess. The rules of congratulations followed the partaking of the sacrament, and the imperial party then breakfasted at the Winter palace. Later in the day they dired at the Anitchkoff palace. The crowds along the Nevsky prospect heartily greeted their majesties as they drove through the streets.

Off For the Front.

There was a touching scene at the Nicholas railroad station this evening when Grand Duke Cyril, eldest son of the Grand Duke Vladimir, the czar's the Grand Duke Vlaminir, the uncle, left for the far east, Grand Duke Cyril returned to St. Petersburg this norning and went to take leave of the zar this afternoon. Irritation Aggravated.

The news that the United States had assented to the extension of the Pacific cable to Japan, with the reasons therefor assigned in the dispatches from Washington, still further aggravated the popular belief that the United States is siding with Japan nagainst Russia. The few Americans in St. Petersburg have all remarked upon the changed demeanor of their Russian friends. Formerly they were treated with the greatest cordiality, but now the Russians greet them with the question.

At the most, however, it is estimated that the government guarantee will only be needed for a limited number of years. The strictest kind of safeguards are to be embodied in the legislation.

The attitude of the United States is a subject of constant discussion even in the highest circles here, where with the greatest regret the fear is expressed that the two countries, without excuse so far as Russia is concerned, seem to be drifting apart. The recently reported cancellation of with the greatest cordiality, but now the Russians greet them with the question:

"Is America our secret enemy and will we have to fight her also before the war comes to an end?"

Friendly Ties Severed.

How deeply the Russians are wounded by the belief, destined, unless checked, soon to become a conviction, that America has spurned her old friend and is now playing a hostile role, is shown by this severance of personal ties, of which a striking instance occurred this week in a prominent Russian friend of as American lady declined her proficed hand. Upon the lady's exclamation of astonishment, her friend burst into tears and raid she felt aggrieved at all Americans since the reported action of the commander to the United States gunboat Vicksburg at Chemulpo.

The attitude of the United States is a subject of constant discussion of a son.

recently reported cancellation of American contracts indicates how the resentment of American supposed hostility has invaded business affairs.

Press to Blame.

Popular feeling is, of course, to be family since 1894 was mostly definite. Popular feeling is, of course, to be largely attributed to certain of the Russian newspapers, which have suddenly turned their batteries from Great Britain to the United States and have now a patient at an institution for the feeble-minded; that another was an epileptic and that several relatives of
